CHANGE YOUR WORLD

Barbara Bellissimo believes empowered people can change their world, and she's on a mission to empower as many as she can.

Through her on-demand transformational tools, facilitated online communities, and live events, Barbara will help you turn your reticence into courage—and kickstart your fundraising efforts.

When she's not creating a new cohort of superheroes, you can find her making art, knitting, sitting on the beach, or indulging in almost anything that has bacon in it.

Signature Talks:

How to Fearlessly Ask for What You Want

In this highly interactive session, you'll learn about the 10 biggest fears that fundraisers and board members have around asking for anything. Then we'll dive deeply into what you can do to overcome them. There will be time to practice, and you will come away with resources and action plans you can use after the workshop is over. You will leave the session feeling more empowered to fearlessly ask for what you want.

This Shouldn't Be So Hard: How to Collaborate Effectively

Nonprofits are approached all the time--by funders, potential partners, community members--to collaborate. How do you know it's right for you/your organization? This workshop will help you understand the benefits and types of collaboration, assess your/your organization's readiness to collaborate, and help you develop a plan of action.

Visualize Yourself As A Leader

What could you accomplish if you fully embraced your leadership qualities? Learn 10 strategies for discovering your leadership qualities and building your confidence to use them to get what you need for your organization to be successful.

"Barbara stands confidently in her own power, and inspires and provokes us to do the same."
